PAPERNET

The brand name and the target market

Papernet is the new Sofidel Group's brand for away-from-home tissue products. Unique, distinctive and dynamic, it is destined to attract recognition as a leading brand among large and small customers.

Sustainability and hygiene
The keywords for Papernet

Less CO2 and less water!

The Sofidel Group has set itself the target of reducing carbon emissions with the capital spending budget to match, sourcing cellulose from certified forests (PEFC, FSC, etc.) and using renewable energies (water, sun, CHP...). Having invested in new facilities, Sofidel boasts very low water consumption levels - almost a quarter in comparison with the market average.

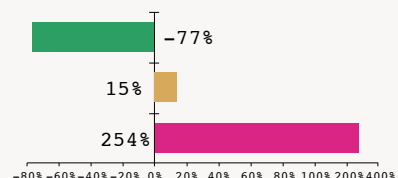

Fostering health care and hygiene means reducing illnesses and cutting absenteeism whilst at the same time increasing productivity and quality of life. Papernet tissue and paper products are the perfect way to reduce the risk of bacterial contamination.

The use of paper towels reduces bacteria on the hands by 77%

Jet air dryers increase the bacteria on the hands by 15%

Hot air dryers increase the bacteria on the hands by up to 254%

Colour-coded quality

Papernet is a flexible brand, capable of catering to the individual needs of customers by offering a broad range of products spanning various quality standards. A different colour is used to identify each quality standard for ease of recognition in the catalogue, on the internet or on the shelves.

OUR FOREST CUSTOMS STATION

Sustainability and Climate Savers

Sofidel is the only tissue paper manufacturer in Europe and the first Italian company to join the Climate Savers scheme organised by the WWF.

Sofidel is one of the main sanitary paper manufacturers on the European market and the first Italian company to join the international Climate Savers scheme run by the WWF.

In subscribing to this initiative our Group has made a voluntary commitment to meet the most rigorous environmental targets and to reduce CO2 emissions - by adopting innovative strategies and technologies which exceed the legally required standards.

The scheme promotes energy efficiency in production processes and in factories/plants, the use/manufacture of high-efficiency products and the use of renewable sources of energy.

Despite excellent figures for CO2 emissions in 2007 (531,315 tonnes), Sofidel has set itself the target of achieving an 11% reduction on these figures by 2012 and a 26% reduction by 2020.

Climate Savers is a concrete example of how the eco-friendly approach can bring benefits in return and open up major development opportunities for companies.

Applied specifically to the company in other words, the commitment to arresting climate change is synonymous with efficiency, energy conservation, innovation and competitive ability. The WWF works with research centres to help the companies which join the scheme to formulate and set ambitious targets and to adopt short-term to medium-term action plans. Every agreement reflects the specific nature of the company and the business sector in which the various stages of its operations are monitored and scrutinised.
